Puzzle

Pieces Of The

By Sara Kingass

5K
School was so unbelievably difficult.

She is from India because she has dark skin.
on her mind. Everything is in trouble. She can’t get to sleep. She has to much work to do. No one can hear her. She sometimes feels as quiet as a mouse.
They seem to respect each other and are being kind to each other.

She thinks a group of girls who look different.
Fled in.

Milicja feel welcome and she immediately
Everyone says, 'Yes,' and made

She goes over the group and asks if she can sit down and play with them. She thought they were going to say, 'As if we care!'
That made Mihaylo feel even better.

We felt like fish out of water.
They called it: Power, because they've stayed strong & been brave or what they've gone through.

They also said that Mum's the word about the club.

They also said: "Do like this group," said Holly.

"Do like this friends," said Holly. "Do like this group," said Holly.

"Reggie made a club book and "Milo" was surrounded." They said.
One day in class, they were learning about 'acceptance'.

The students in the class then started to accept the girls.

They started to play with them.
The girls even tried to learn each other's languages, but it was like learning the language and having a test the next day.

Peggy tried Indian and Mikayla tried Chinese.
They're all pieces of a puzzle!

Now, everyone who goes to Happy Dale Girls School respects each other & no one feels ashamed of their culture is.