Poppo loved holidays and went on a holiday every month.

About her holiday.

One day, Peggy heard the doorbells ring.

"We're here."

"Yes, they said. Her friends sat down.

So she climbed out of her tree to see who it was.

To have a cup of tea. Poppo the penguin was talking.
Peggy was a little worried, but in the end she agreed.

“Bango the Monkey,” said Peggy. "It will be so much fun, we could travel to New Zealand, travel to all our homestays all in one huge holiday." "Well I haven’t been out of my house nor have I been to a different country," said Peggy. "Well I think it’s a holiday, all of us folk. We are getting pretty old and I think it’s well deserved."

"How about we first go to the scariest zoo in Africa. We're lucky that this zoo..."

OKay so this is the town my family and I live in "explained Georgia.

All 5 of them thought Africa was an amazing country and it was also very HOT!
It was an early start for Peggy and all the other animals. Peggy was very tired because she wasn't used to jet lag and all the travelling business. Their flight was an early one, and it landed in China at about 8:30am.

The animals were sitting down at the zoo kiosk having an umbrella soda drink and some hot chips. They were all laughing at some of Peggy's legendary jokes.

"Quite the funny type," Bango says.

"They were lovely," Poppy said as she was eating her lunch.

In the zoo all of the friends met Bango's Aunt and Uncle.

"Cool," Georgina said.

"Awesome," Poppy said.

"I'd love to come and meet my Aunt and Uncle." Okay well there is a really cool zoo, it's where I grew up as a little chap. Would you

"HAAAAAAAAHHAHAHA. Another one Peg!"

"Cell phones." Peggy replied.

"What do prisoners use to call each other?"
Poppys was swimming in a pool of excitement.

Later that next afternoon, Poppys was very happy because at midnight that night she was taking all her friends to the very last country of their holiday. New Zealand!

"Yeah, I guess," she said. "Well that's what friends are for, aren't they?"

Peggy explained, "This wonderful world outside of my treehouse if my friends didn't think of me, I am so lucky to have great friends like you guys. I would have never experienced"
"Okay, okay Poppy. They all shouted.

"I'm not sure," said Peggy.

"You know what I'm very interested in seeing?" bang said.

"You could see Poppy's excitement and joy of her being back into her hometown with her family and friends."

"There's my family, other friends, shops, animals, foods and much more. I just can't wait for you guys to meet my family."

"Haka. Park."

The animals got off the airplane after a long flight; they walked over to the luggage conveyor belts to receive their suitcases.

"Hello Poppy and friends, we are so happy to see you all." Grandpa screamed.

"How about we go home and I’ll make you all a nice cup of lemon tea." Grandma said.

"Yes please." We replied.
"Thanks Gran," said Poppy.

"Here's your tea everyone."

"Just drop off all your luggage in this room," Poppy said.

"I think you did Poppy, especially when you had to wait the longest to see your family."

"It's quite a big one, so that's why we always celebrate family occasions like Easter and Christmas over there. I felt living near my family, I missed them lots. Said Poppy.

"The house on the other side of my family's live is just down that lane."

"The last destination until we all go home, "Poppy explained.

"Me too!" Randy said.

"So everyone, I was thinking that this holiday could be a quite relaxing one. Seems it's the next."

Georgina explained.
You’re welcome, friends. Anytime, we’ll keep in contact. Randy said.

BYE!

The next day was the very last day of the animal’s big holiday. It was a sad time because all of the friends had to say goodbye to each other.

Getting further and further away.

She was sitting in her seat looking out the window to see the airport. Peggy was sitting on the plane on her way back to Australia.

All of the animals got on 4 different flights and went back to their countries.

"Bye Friends," said Poppy at the airport as we were leaving.
“Oh, what a journey it has been, from new people, to new countries, to new foods. It’s okay to be different, visit other countries outside of your town, and eat different traditional foods. So here’s to my next big holiday that awaits.

Oh, what a journey!

THE END!!
