Henry likes Penny the best.

Mr. Henry is the owner of Penny and all the other chickens, but out of all the chickens, Mr. Henry is the one that Penny likes the most.

Penny is an ordinary chicken. She lives on a farm with forty-nine other chickens that look exactly the same as her. There's only one problem though; Penny hates things that are different.
They travel all around the world. They stopped for at least a day at all the finest places!

Then one day, Mr. Henry decides to go on holiday with Penny. So he gets Penny and all his stuff, and heads to the airport.
In Japan they eat sushi and noodles.

In Italy they eat pasta and pizza.
In Australia they even ate steak and sausages. Well, Mr. Henry did, Penny's strictly vegetarian.

Then on their last stop in New South Wales, Penny was walking along the streets of what they Penny looses sight of Mr Henry. Penny gets very scared and starts to call for Mr Henry. "Mr Henry? Mr Henry? Where are you Mr Henry?" She couldn't see Mr Henry anywhere. "I think I should put my ear to the wall," she says to herself. "Hopefully in the morning everything will be back to normal and I will be with Mr Henry."

It starts to rain so Penny decides to go to sleep.
Penny thinks the idea.

My name is Boo, do you want to be friends? Says Boo.

P.P.: Penny says Penny feeling really scared.

Hello, what's your name? Says one of the chickens staring at Penny.

So scary that she somebody different of being friends with Penny thinks the idea.
"Ok, I will be your friend, but could I please take a nap in your house? I'm really tired," says Penny.

"Just because I'm a different color and shape to you Penny doesn't make me unapproachable, or not able to be your friend, because deep down differences are what makes the best friendships," says Boo. Penny turns around and sees Boo at the door of the house she just left in such a hurry. "I could never be your friend," says Penny, you are so different from me," says Boo. "Wait, wait, I only want to get to know you better Penny," says Boo. Please be my friend!"
But now we need to meet the owner of all of us. Mr Chuckles.

"That are different just like you but I taught them all that difference is good not bad," says Boo.

"Believe it or not everybody that you have met here so far have been frightened of people..." says Penny.

"Mm... not a bad idea at all," says Penny.

"Meet is the way to go," says Boo.

"We feel that giving an open heart to everybody we meet is the way to go," says Boo.

"That is our friend Roby Rooster," says Penny.

"What is that horrible noise?" asks Penny.

"Doo, that was horrible. Up by a sudden cock-a-doodle-do,"

In the morning Penny gets woken.
Boo.

"Owe. Well that's not good I will have to tell Mr Chuckles now and see if he can find out what his phone number is, who he is and where he is," says Boo.

"What is the name of your owner Penny?" Says Boo.

"My owners name is Mr Henry, but I really don't think I'm ever going to see him again," says Penny, hoping that Boo will adopt her.

So Penny, Boo and the others all left their special chicken house and headed a couple hundred metres down a grass track to Mr Chuckles house.
Hello Penny. I hope you have settled into what will be your new home until we find your owner. Owe, and Boo could you please take Penny to the breakfast area to eat. I'll just be a couple minutes, to work on the farm like Mr Chuckles said.

"We must do this quickly so that we can help the others out with their jobs too," basket.

"We have been laid throughout the past couple of days and put them in a basket. Get to work on collecting all Penny and Boo," says Penny.

"Okay, there are only twenty chickens that live here on our farm. How many were on yours?"

"There were fifty of us on my farm," says Penny.

"At my old home we used to count eggs everyday because there was so many of us, so I'm pretty good at the egg counting business," says Penny.

The thing that ever body is your friend no matter what even though I like about it though is that everyone is your friend no matter what even though I knew when I first came here I hated that thought. I would ever want to leave it. And believe it or not I think it is because of all the different things he wants to talk about my future here on the farm I love this place so much that I don't think I wonder what Mr. Chuckles wants to talk to me about in his house for thinks Penny. Maybe... made for her and started clicking away on the computer.

"OK, see you in a minute Mr. Henry," says Penny. Penny hops onto the hay seat Mr. Henry had "Come with me into my computer room and you can look him up on my computer, make sure

"Yes Mr. Chuckles, it sure is," says Penny.

"Know about your owner Mr...? Mr. Is it Henry, Mr. Henry?"

"Ahh... Penny there's my girl! I've been looking for you, I need you to tell me everything you

"Hello Mr. Chuckles, what do you wish from me?" says Penny.
"Hey, Mr Chuckles, I have found Mr Henry’s number and where he lives!

"That’s great what is the number?" Says Mr Chuckles.

"It is 555 324 1297 and he lives in America" says Penny.

"Ok I will ring him right now" says Mr Chuckles.

"Mr Chuckles, am I going to go back home to Mr Henry’s," says Penny.

"Yes, I’m pretty sure Mr Henry would be missing you very much Penny, and would be searching for you everywhere, but now I need to make this call so be quiet please" says Mr Chuckles.
"Mr. Henry, Mr. Henry, my name is Mr. Chuckles, I live in Australia, New South Wales in a small town called Cambewarra on a farm on the street under the name of Sundale Rd, number five," says Mr. Chuckles. "Yes, yes it is, um may I ask what your name is and where you live so I could pick her up" says Penny. "Um... I think I have your chicken, is her name Penny?" says Mr. Chuckles. "Hello, is this Mr. Henry?" says Mr. Chuckles. "Yes, what do you want?" says Mr. Henry through the phone. "I'll put it on speaker so you can all hear it if it makes you feel better," says Mr. Chuckles. Then all everybody in the room could hear the ringing of Mr. Chuckles phone, ring, ring, ring.
Penny gets woken in the morning by somebody she doesn’t recognise until he speaks.
“Penny, how are you girl, I missed you so much.”
“Mr Henry is that you” says Penny
“Yes, Penny it’s me Mr Henry, come on let’s go, I want to get home and tell all the others that I found you!” Says Mr Henry.
“Um.. I am really sorry Mr Henry, but I have made friends here and I am certainly not just going to leave without saying goodbye to them, so could I just have about five minutes to say goodbye to them before I leave” says Penny.
“Sure, and I am glad to know you have over come your fear of different things by the way” says Mr Henry.
"This is it. I never thought that this would be so hard, but I am going to miss all of you that live on this farm beyond words, especially you Boo. I have learnt so much from you and your friends, that I shall carry everywhere I go. Feel welcome to come to my farm in America whenever you want, any of you, because we will accept everybody, even though it may be nowhere near as good as this place, it's still good. Goodbye Boo, I will miss you, and you Mr. Chuckles for giving me a new home, I thank you. Goodbye everybody. Penny hopping into Mr. Henry's car for what will be a journey back to the place she loves most.
